BACK TO SCHOOL

Do you remember that commercial from a few years ago, for a big office supply store?: parents, skipping through the isles, as the children, sullen and dragging behind listen to the song "It's the Most Wonderful Time of the Year" ? That one always made me chuckle, and not surprisingly, made all of my children cringe. As we reach "that time of year" again, it is exciting for us here in the library to realize that a whole new crop of students will be descending on the campus in just a few short weeks, new backpacks, books, and supplies in hand, ready to face their classes (and instructors).

Librarians get very excited when we get to provide tools to students and faculty, to see those "light-bulb moments" that students often have after orientations or during research sessions. Don't laugh! Our mission is simple: provide great assistance and resources to all in need.

New databases, our expanding collection of books and videos, as well as some new services such as MP3 audio titles, will all be ready for students, faculty and staff to use both off and on campus.

Your mission, should you choose to accept it, is simple as well:

Stop by the library and see what we have to offer. You won't be disappointed.
