New Audio Book Titles: Priceless

The library recently conducted a very non-scientific study of our patrons and their audio book habits. The survey consisted of questions about the title selections, format of the audio books (CD, Tape, or MP3) and other relevant information. Here are some of the comments that we received about the library services:

- Good selections. It is also nice to know when new selections become available.
- You are doing an excellent job with this!
- Please continue to add to your current selections. This is a very good way to "read" a book in our commuter society.

It would be easy for us to rest on our laurels after all of the wonderful feedback we received about the audio book collection, but that will not be the case! We continue to strive for the best services for our patrons, exploring new and better ways we can reach more students, faculty, staff, and members of the community. Thanks for your input—we appreciate it!
